WEST HICKORY ITEMS

West Hickory, Oct. 17.—The work on the new hall on the Ivy mill grounds is now completed. The building is nicely painted and contains a large room for the Y. M. C. A. and a band hall, a room for a barber shop and a bath room. We have heard the work highly complimented by a number of citizens, all agreeing that Capt. H. W. Warner, superintendent of the mill, surely knows what is good for the health of his hands and also for the upbuilding of the town.

Mr. Will Laney and family moved to Clinton, S. C. one day last week. The West Hickory band seems to be kept pretty busy playing for the speakings. They went to Brookford Thursday night when Hon. E. Y. Webb spoke, and tonight they will play at the Democratic speaking at Windy City, and Saturday night they played for the speaking in Hickory. They have two more engagements to play at Democratic speakings, the first next Wednesday night, when Hon. R. N. Page speaks in the city of Hickory. They will also play for the speaking in Hickory next Saturday night.

Hon. W. A. Self spoke in West Hickory to the Democratic club last Thursday night. His speech was fine.

Mr. John Mace of Morganton spent Saturday and Sunday here with the family of Mr. M. J. Lackey.

Mr. Ed Hammond is spending several days at present with his mother at Elberton, Ga.

Holy communion service was held at Bethany Lutheran church in West Hickory Sunday. There was a large attendance.

Mrs. S. E. Wilson went to Granite Saturday to visit her mother, Mrs. Mull.

Mr. Non Abernethy and family who had spent sometime here visiting Mr. B. D. Abernethy, returned to High Shoals Saturday.

Mr. John Robinson of Milan, Tenn., spent several days here last week with the family of J. D. Abernethy.

Mrs. R. M. Chisenhall of Lexington spent last Thursday night here with her brother, Mr. J. M. Freeman, overseer of the weave room.

She had spent several weeks visiting relatives at Hickory Nut Gap and was returning to her home and stopped over with her brother.

The question of a band for Hickory will be taken up tonight at a meeting in the band hall.
